Haymes and the National Trust

We are extremely proud to say that Haymes Paint holds the prestigious position of Official Supplier of Restoration Paint to the National Trust of Australia (VIC, TAS).

This is not only testimony to the high quality and authenticity of our paint colours, but to the hard work and dedication of many people at Haymes.

A number of years ago we sought the cooperation of the Heritage Unit at the Victorian Ministry for Planning and Environment in producing an authentic range of colours used in the original decoration of Victorian, Edwardian and Federation style buildings. Many of these colours were to be found on early Haymes Colour Cards.

The result is the Haymes Heritage Colour Range, a totally authentic collection of colours matched to British Standards 2660, 5252, and 318C and appropriate Australian Standard numbers.
